Discover EMV Fraud Liability Shift for JCB

Discover Network and PULSE announced that JCB has updated their EMV fraud liability shift policy to include JCB card transactions processed via Discover Network and PULSE.

Effective October 18, 2019, the EMV liability shift will include transactions where a JCB contact chip payment device was issued and a counterfeit card using JCB BIN ranges was used to conduct the transaction at a POS, except at an Automated Fuel Dispenser.

Effective October 16, 2020, the EMV liability shift will include transactions where a JCB contact chip payment device was issued and a counterfeit card using JCB BIN ranges was used to conduct the transaction at an Automated Fuel Dispenser.
